DEDICATION

To the Most Reverend Charles F. Buddy, who has opened for us the doorways to leadership,
we dedicate our Alcala.
We owe to you, your Excellency,
the key to success here at our college and home.
You have opened the doors of Unity, by reminding us that we are all one with Our Lord in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass;

Spirit, by inaugurating some of our most beautiful University traditions and by establishing the criteria of our social activities; and,

Dedication, by your own example of devotion towards the lasting benefits of Christian education.

While Unity, Spirit, and Dedication have only recently been our themes, they have constantly been the force behind your work here.
For unlocking these doorways to Christian excellence, and for so many other benefits —
benefits which defy definition — we thank you.

FRESHMAN HISTORY

A fantastic menage of new experiences, people, and places greeted the sometimes apprehensive, yet sometimes almost sophisticated, freshmen in September, 1961. Meeting roommates, unpacking, navigating between trunk room and residence hall without getting lost, ferreting out car pool companions from lounge and library, discovering both Big Sisters and Big Brothers, beach parties, and mixers were all part of the colorful mosaic of Freshman Week.

But the newness soon wore off and the freshmen began to settle down into the routine of daily college life. Perhaps it was distressing, at first, to find oneself no longer the pampered baby of the college, but it was more heartening, at Freshman Follies time, to realize that this class was already an integral part of the Student Body. They "belonged."

Then, it was time to get to know themselves better. The relaxed air at the Class Party, at Sandra D'Agostino's was a unifying spirit. They had worked together for the Follies and had become better acquainted, but here they could meet without the stress and strain of rehearsals and deadlines and merely enjoy each other's company.

This class, more or less quiet since the Follies, now showed yet another facet of its abilities. Their two "Friday nighters", one featuring a pinata, the other — stirring renditions of Christmas Carols, proved very successful, as did their Christmas Toy Drive and doll raffle, a benefit for the mission on Formosa.

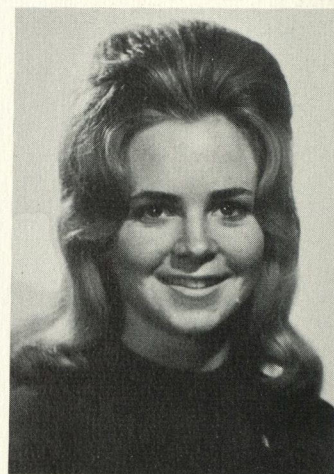

Their first college retreat, marking the end of finals and first semester, gave these Freshmen time to think, time to fit in place all the pieces of the confusing puzzle that was their first semester in college. It also provided time to look forward towards February and the Supper Dance, coordinated by social chairmen Colleen O'Brien and Karen Graham. Ahead was an even better second semester, under the able leadership of newly elected class officers, Nancy Cain, president; Ave DeVanon, vice-president; Anne Jurika, secretary; Claudia Downs, treasurer.

CLASS OF 1964

CLASS HISTORY

The year of 1961-62 has been in many ways a memorable one for the class of '64. Class officers elected the preceeding spring — Anne Boehler, president; Joni Karpinski, vice-president; Patti Murphy, secretary; and Ruth Wickersham, treasurer — and social chairmen Maureen Pecht and Vivian Magnus, worked together with class counselor Mother Patch in guiding a happy and successful year.

The year's activities were begun with helping "little sisters" get orientated. The morale lifting was continued throughout the year by such boosters as the buddy system at mid-terms.

Ruth Wickersham and Fred Houston directed the Mexican hat dance and mock bullfight which carried out the Spanish theme of our Toreros' homecoming activities, co-sponsored with the men's college sophomores.

At Thanksgiving time the class sponsored a clothing drive in addition to the annual food drive, headed by Polly Holmberg. A cookie drive was supported by the class, under the direction of Nancy Erhardt, for Mercy Hospital's children's Christmas party.

As the first semester ended, with brain-taxing finals and Father Walshe Murray's strengthening retreat, a few new members were welcomed into the class. Second semester swept by in a whirl of dances, exams, beach parties, and upper division courses. Unforgettable were the class parties at Patti Tiernan's and Joni Karpinski's, where last year's operetta was revived and excess poundage was twisted away.

But standing out above all was the traditional Bal des Fleurs, given in May. Hours of hard work, under the able chairmanship of Polly Holmberg, were rewarded by the resulting success of the dance.

The year closed as the class of '64 bid the class of '62 a tuneful adieu in a serenade on class night. Then sophomores scattered to their homes for a summer's rest, looking forward to returning to their beloved Alcala as upper-classmen.

JUNIOR

CLASS HISTORY

Autumn Leaves was more than a song as the Junior Class transformed the dining hall into a magic fantasy of fall at the annual Autumn Informal. Unity of the class under Norma Peck spelled success and foreshadowed the enthusiastic spirit of support which characterized our Junior year.

House parties were a favorite form of entertainment. Resident students enjoyed the hospitality of Carol Barr and the class opened the Christmas season with a barbeque with College for Men students at Patricia Quirk's home.

Class rings arrived in time to take home for Christmas vacation and were received with traditional happiness. Also in this season the class sponsored a charity project, sending Christmas cards to rest home patients and providing Christmas presents for a needy family.

During the year Juniors supported USD activities — electing Patricia Shannon our homecoming princess, attending rallies, backing the new spirit club formed by Carol Lowney and Donna Brower.

Spring semester found Juniors singing songs from Father Lanphier's Hallabulu and practicing for the Mardi Gras Variety Show. The jointly sponsored upper division supper dance saw Juniors and Seniors cooperating to add a new event to the social calendar. The annual Fashion Parade and the memorable Prophecies marked the end of an active year. Looking forward to vacation and our return as Seniors, the Juniors also recall a happy and profitable year under the kind guidance of our counselor, Mother Shaffer.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Diplomas at last! . . . To the proud friends and relatives crowding the chapel, they represent four years of hard work, but to the "Class of 1962" they mean four years of cramming for finals and all-night stints over term papers and memories of that famous date and . . .

Once we were the largest freshman class in S.D.C.W.'s history . . . Big Sisters helped a lot, but . . . We discovered a lot about college life . . . the advantages and disadvantages of living so close to the beach . . . the lost-and-found department always bursting with copies of the Iliad . . . Ritchie's will deliver!!! . . . With a little more confidence we went European . . . Cafe Continental proved to be a "Freshmen Folly" . . . Papers were due but . . . the football teams needed our vocal support . . . we couldn't let them down . . . tans in time for Christmas . . . Surprise parties spotted the date calendar . . . you were more surprised if you didn't have one . . . Who could forget? Butterflies were flying and so were the compliments when "Winnie the Pooh" first came to S.D.C.W. . . . Mother Furay's suggestion blossomed into such unforgettables as Tigger, Christopher Robin, and infamous Eeyore . . . What, our first year gone already.

Popular demand necessitated a repeat of "Winnie the Pooh" . . . stars reborn . . . the European touch returned with pizza, checkered plates, and napkins . . . an Italian-type mixer . . . dances and mixers galore . . . still "the best dance ever" was our Bal des Fleurs, despite a few scattered showers and a bizarre Southern mansion that Sandy Loubat would never claim . . . hysterical song-writers migrated to Newport to compose songs for seniors . . . tunes gained fame at Class night . . . Ah, another year has passed.

Vacation over so quickly . . . but we're upper classmen now . . . The wonders of Metracal's success were short-lived . . . Oscar's came to us, practically overnight . . . Games of bridge on the Bridge . . . even became the theme of the senior prophecies . . . talented actresses were athletic too, the basketball trophy was ours to keep . . . Girl From Jazztown won acclaim . . . in spite of many aches and pains . . . Wedding bells began to break that old class of ours . . .

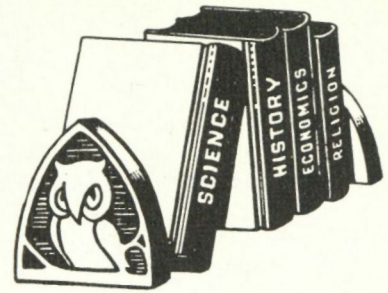

Echoing words . . . "The freshmen think you're ancient" . . . early plans for Christmas formal . . . La Jolla Country Club transformed . . . dates for Little Sisters . . . but charity begins at home . . . so . . . at long last, a mixing Senior mixer . . . Rancho Presido gained fame . . . Oh, how did you celebrate your 21st?" . . . Unbelievable but true . . . the multitude of papers and books that you've collected are really yours . . . threadbare caps and gowns have to last . . . but can they? . . . too late to change your major now . . . "How could four years have passed so quickly?" . . . Believe it or not . . . Seniors bogged down by lesson plans and fourth grade work . . .

Yes, the chapel is filled . . . the years have passed . . . Friends may see only anxious faces but these faces hide eager and happy hearts . . . Finally, diplomas in hand . . . full of meaning and memories . . .
