 University of San Diego

PROFILE

The University of San Diego is an independent Catholic institution of higher education located on 180 acres overlooking San Diego's Mission Bay.

USD is known for its commitment to teaching, the liberal arts, the formation of values and community involvement. The university takes pride in the personalized approach and holistic view of students it brings to the educational process.

Chartered in 1949, USD enrolls more than 6,000 students who may choose from more than 50 undergraduate and graduate degree programs. The university's academic units include the College of Arts and Sciences, and the Schools of Business Administration, Education, Law and Nursing. The School of Graduate and Continuing Education coordinates the graduate programs of all schools with the exception of the School of Law.

Throughout its history, USD has remained committed to the ideals of liberal education and to recognizing the dignity of men and women as human beings and as creatures of God. As a Catholic institution, the university is committed to examination of the Catholic tradition as the basis of a continuing search for meaning in contemporary life.

USD offers a year-round calendar of cultural events open to the public, and its men's and women's sports teams compete against national opponents in 16 sports.

Notable

- ✦ National and local attention was focused on USD this fall when the bipartisan Commission on Presidential Debates chose the university as the site for the second presidential debate. Although the debate was later canceled, the prospect of the event brought the university community together and spurred the students to action. They developed a message to present to the world — “May we radiate hope, celebrate individuality and unite in lighting a path toward our future” — and erected a 140-foot “Mural of Hope” that contained some 600 sayings, slogans and thoughts written by the students.
- ✦ The Chronicle of Higher Education reported this past summer that graduation rates for USD scholarship-athletes ranked in the top three among all West Coast Conference, Pacific 10 and Big West schools. This report reinforces the university’s philosophy that a school can compete on a national level while still maintaining high academic standards. The rankings are based on the average graduation rates of 1984 and 1985 entering freshmen in Division I athletic programs. USD’s scholarship-athlete graduation rate is well above the average student rate.
- ✦ USD was one of the 37 U.S. schools and libraries chosen in 1991 by the Library of Congress to take part in its American Memory Project. Students and faculty can now call up original source materials from the Continental Congress, the Civil War, the Industrial Revolution and other Library of Congress holdings via computers and TV monitors.
- ✦ Distinguished Law Professor Bernard H. Siegan is leaving his mark on the new republics emerging from the collapse of communism throughout Eastern Europe. An expert on U.S. constitutional law, he is helping these fledgling republics frame their new constitutions. In July 1991, Bulgaria adopted a constitution on which Siegan had consulted, and another of his proposed documents is under consideration by the leaders of Armenia. A faculty member at USD since 1973, Siegan has been working with other countries for the last five or six years.

ALCALÁ PARK

USD's 180-acre campus overlooking San Diego's Mission Bay is regarded as one of the most architecturally unique in the country, with 18 major buildings designed in an ornamental 16th century Spanish Renaissance style.

The USD campus was named Alcalá Park after a Spanish village near Madrid — Alcalá de Henares. Founded by the Greeks as Complutum, the village was later renamed Al Kala (the Castle) Nahar (after the river Henares) by the Moslems. Christians recaptured the village centuries later and founded a university whose buildings became the inspiration for USD's architectural style.

All of USD's administrative and classroom facilities are located on the upper campus. At the east end are the Alcalá Vista apartments, the Mission housing complex, graduate student apartments and the Sports Center complex, which includes Torero Stadium, tennis courts, an Olympic-sized swimming pool, gymnasium, weight room and other playing fields.

Since 1984, USD has completed eight major construction and expansion projects. In 1992, the university completed the 45,000-square-foot Loma Hall, which includes an expanded bookstore, a larger mail center, engineering classrooms and office space for the physics, engineering and arts and sciences departments. In 1990, the newly expanded and renovated Katherine M. and George M. Pardee Jr. Legal Research Center opened, a facility that is double the size of the former law library and reflects the latest developments in information technology. The university completed and opened the 6,000-square-foot Douglas F. Manchester Family Child Development Center in 1989.

Other projects completed within the past decade include the Alcalá Vista apartments (1987), a 156-unit student apartment complex; the Ernest and Jean Hahn University Center (1987), a 76,000-square-foot building that houses dining, meeting and office areas; Olin Hall (1984), home to the School of Business Administration; the Douglas F. Manchester Executive Conference Center (1984); and the Helen K. and James S. Copley Library (1984).

Intercollegiate Athletics

Athletics, both scholarship and non-scholarship sports, play an important role in USD's day-to-day campus life, enhanced by outstanding outdoor opportunities and excellent campus facilities.

Men's basketball, baseball, soccer, tennis, golf and cross country teams compete at the Division I level and belong to the West Coast Conference. Men's and women's crew teams compete as independents. In the 1993-94 season, the football team moves up to NCAA Division I-AA level competition as part of the newly formed Pioneer Football League. Other members of the league are Dayton, Butler, Valparaiso, Evansville and Drake universities. The team plays its last year as an NCAA Division III independent during the 1992-93 season.

Women's basketball, cross country, tennis, volleyball and soccer teams compete at the Division I level as members of the West Coast Conference. The women's swim team is a member of the Pacific Collegiate Swim Conference and the softball team competes as an independent.

Scholarships are available in men's basketball, baseball, soccer, tennis, golf and cross country, and women's basketball, swimming, tennis, volleyball and soccer.

Nickname:	Toreros (bullfighters)
Colors:	Columbia blue, navy blue and white
Chief conference rivals:	Pepperdine University, Loyola Marymount University, Santa Clara University, University of San Francisco

1991-92 marked the second consecutive year that three USD student-athletes garnered All-American status. In men's tennis, senior Jose Luis Noriega became the school's first four-time NCAA All-American. In women's tennis, sophomores Julie McKeon and Laura Richards earned All-American status after reaching the semifinals of the NCAA doubles championships. The women's tennis team reached the NCAA tournament for the fourth year and finished with a national ranking of 15.

Intramurals

The USD intramural program is an integral part of student life on campus. Last year more than two-thirds of the university community — including graduate and undergraduate students, faculty and staff — participated in at least one of the many activities offered.

Leagues, tournaments and special events include flag football, tennis, volleyball, basketball, softball, golf, inner tube water polo, floor hockey, bowling and other competitions.

In addition, USD students and employees can participate in a variety of outdoor activities sponsored by Outdoor Adventures. Skiing, rafting, rock-climbing, horseback riding, mountain biking and hiking are some of the activities offered.

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

Founders Gallery

Frequent exhibitions by guest, community, student and alumni artists are displayed in this gallery located in Founders Hall. Recent exhibits included "Jardin Zoologique," by Jean Lowe, "Mathieu Gregoire — Sculpture" and "The Voice of Women: Arpilleras of Chile," featuring appliqued and embroidered statements of protest.

Music

A comprehensive music program includes regular performances by the USD Community Orchestra, USD Community Choir, Opera Workshop and the Choral Scholars show choir. The program also presents frequent recitals by faculty and students, performances of visiting artists and auditions for the Metropolitan Opera.

Theater

USD's fine arts department, in conjunction with San Diego's Old Globe Theatre, offers a Master in Fine Arts program, drawing select students from across the nation who participate in practical theater work as well as academic studies in USD's English department. M.F.A. students stage campus productions regularly.

Speakers

Distinguished speakers routinely appear on campus, contributing to USD's cultural and intellectual diversity. Mother Teresa, Coretta Scott King, comedian Bob Hope, photographer Arnold Newman, Jesse Jackson Jr., Supreme Court Justice Sandra Day O'Connor and Jack Kemp, secretary of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, are just a few of those who have visited in recent years.

DID YOU KNOW?

Head of the Class

The 1992 entering freshman class held a mean high school grade point average of 3.32 in college preparatory classes and mean SAT scores of 485, verbal, and 533, math.

A Fresh Start

All freshmen are assigned to a preceptorial, a course in which a teacher or preceptor acts as official academic adviser to the student until the student's major is declared. This ensures close student-faculty contact and academic orientation to USD during the transition to college life.

Recipe for Success

In 1991, USD's Dining Services whipped up another winning recipe for the 18th annual National Association of College and University Food Services (NACUFS) competition. Dining Services' main dining room was awarded first place in the residence halls standard menu division for medium-size schools.

Give Thanks

The office of Campus Ministry offers Masses for students two times each weekday, once on Saturday and three times each Sunday.

Winning Team

A total of 53 USD student-athletes earned places on the 1991-92 West Coast Conference Scholar-Athlete list, which requires a minimum 3.0 cumulative grade point average and a 3.0 average for the 1991-92 academic year. Additionally, 12 USD student-athletes were selected for six All-Academic teams, which require a minimum 3.20 cumulative grade point average and significant contributions to the athlete's team.

Go West

The 1992 freshman class hails from near: California, 64%; and far: Southwest states, 16%; Midwest states, 6%; Northwest/Mountain states, 5%; Northeast/Mid-Atlantic states, 4%; Non-contiguous states, 2%; Southern states, 1%; and 20 other countries, 2%.
