SENIOR MEMORIES

The San Diego College for Women, founded and sustained on a tradition of excellence and integrity in education, beholds the timeless, mystic tradition of the sea. Spanish Renaissance windows frame the vast spectrum of the water's blue: brilliant concerts of blue-green, subtle gray-brushed tones, periodic turquoise hues. . . The vital renewing movement of the changeless sea. . attended by the precise architecture of classical Europe . . and witnessed by a generation of the time. Currency — immediate, animated, intense — within the shadows of an abiding culture.

Traditions — strong, clear, decided. Traditions continuing as the metaphor and framework of vital growth . . as they were four years ago for a new group of freshman girls . . and as cumulative meaning for a graduating senior class of young women.

The patterns of the sea are endlessly varied . . complex and simple . . with aspects spanning the sublime and the ordinary . . the eternal and the transient . . the memorable and the forgotten. . .

And so our college years . . a pattern of four years . . varied and complex in activities, events and experiences . . and yet, with the simplicity of one in faith, tradition and purpose . . and above all the unique growth of each and all:

Individuals . . of the quiet gifts: their warm smiles lending serenity to those days that were always crowded, often hectic and sometimes unhappy . . of dedication: the devotion of those who expended time, effort and talent in the million necessary tasks in the smooth operation of student-body and class affairs . . of laughter: the indispensable characters, rich in humor, who turned disappointments and failings into an amusing appreciation of human foible and who added an enriching light-heartedness to accomplishments . . of imagination: the easy-going students who managed midterms, term-papers, mixers and movies in the same comfortable stride; scientists who organized and formulated everything from titrating to dating, announcing their engagements in the same short conversation in which they announced the solution to a difficult math problem . . of starry-eyes and visions: rainbows riders who came down to earth long enough to display their rings and announce the date; personnel people who dated the most eligible men that sail the seas . . of understanding: the eager ones who wrestled with Aristotle until they knew what "pers se" and "per accidens" really means; the special friends who listened and what is more, endured; the politicians, opinionated and articulate in everything from Havana to Aadack; the philosophers, pragmatically, ideologically, scientifically, poetically and historically versed in the wisdom and ways of life . . . Individuals . . the laughable, lovable, elegant, profound, amazing, intelligent, ingenious . . the good and the gracious, the pretty, popular, the promising, the sad, smiling and shy . . . individuals whose gifts and singularity formed the most important and enriching pattern of our four years together . . and whose influence and ideals will be a meaningful force throughout our lives . . .

Our Faculty . . patient, helpful, exacting, encouraging and probably disappointed at times . . but always hopeful and always vital with the excitement and discovery of ideas — projected and illustrated . . History professors — alive and intrigued with the destinies of Henry VIII and Frederick Barbarossa . . Philosophers — explaining for the tenth time why the final cause is the cause of all causes . . Social and Political Scientists — grimacing, when reminding after the midterm that a nation is not a state and a community is not a society . . Language instructors — surviving anglinized versions of their subject . . Drama and Speech instructors — exasperated after transforming stone-faced twentieth-century students into Shakespearian damsels . . Scientists — enduring the mangled results of amateur dissection and contaminated specimens . . Literature professors — communicating the beauty of artistic creation, of words and language, and patiently attempting to understand less illuminating student papers . . . A Faculty . . dedicated and appreciated . . whose value and help will be a continual source of guidance to be tapped in the many years to come . .

The eternal and sublime . . the Annual Mass of the Holy Spirit . . Children of Mary . . Mater Admirabilis . . First Fridays . . noon Mass . . novenas and spiritual bouquets . .

The memorable . . Mother Danz . . Feast Wishes . . President's Days . . Faculty Lectures . . concerts and piano recitals . . dramatic productions . . student teaching . . twenty-first birthdays . . op. cit. and ibid. . . Christmas Formal . . Autumn Informal . . Bal de Fleurs . . mixers . . Freshmen Follies . . Junior Fair . . IRC, Speaker's Bureau . . honors assemblies . . finals . . farewell . . friends . .

The ordinary, but unforgettable . . tickets: parking and attendance . . class meetings . . Ritchie's and Speedee Mart . . vending machines (working or otherwise) . . coffee over lab-books . . the bridge and the smoker . . the snow-topped mural . . mixers and "those who only stand and wait" . . stations one-through-seven on registration, multi-colored student body cards . . proctoring, lunch lines, trench coats . . the poetry on Friday nights . . the stacks . . deciphering the time-schedule . . post-office vigils . . the lower floor cultural showcases . . syllabi . .

Senior Year . . Father Spain . . graduate records . . engagement rings . . 12:30 class meetings, ten-day parties, cushions in the theatre (never enjoyed) . . sitting in the back at assemblies . . and the FINAL: mixers, parties, dinners, classes, grades and finals . . . and Graduation . . the climax and culmination of four years . . intense in spiritual, intellectual and personal growth . . stable in the heritage of the Sacred Heart . . within the view of the mighty sea. A farewell to the direct, daily influence of a tradition rich in spirit and purpose . . but a lasting recognition of its value and force in the years yet to come:

"I am forever walking upon these shores
Betwixt the sand and the foam
The high tide will erase my foot-prints
And the wind will blow away the foam
But the sea and the shore will remain
Forever."

(Kahil Gibran).

CLASS OF 1965

To the Class of 1965, college life at USD has truly proven to be a challenge — academic, social, cultural, and spiritual — a challenge which has been met with a spirit of determined accomplishment.

Could not determination be considered the keyword of our Freshmen year? As we met the challenges of college life, our class responded with strong determination. Fears were soon lost in the excitement of Freshman Week. The Freshmen Follies and class party brought the class closer together. Collecting toys for the annual toy drive gave everyone the real Christmas spirit. Our first retreat left us peace and zeal, and gave us the feeling of being a real part of the student body.

Having completed that first challenging semester, our class swirled into the next semester. Strains of "Waltz Dream", our Freshman Operetta, will be remembered long, as will our Supper Dance and the success of our Carnival, which began a new tradition at USD. As we gave the pizza party for our Seniors on Class Night, we realized that our Freshman Year was at its close.

After a summer of varied activities, we returned as the Sophomore Class for 1962-63. Initiating another tradition, our class sponsored a fruitful Thanksgiving drive which was highlighted by the Greek-flavored "Sophomore Surprise."

Looking like a medieval castle, the main patio provided the setting for the Bal Des Fleurs. Efforts for this project were well rewarded by the enchanting evening, as the entire student body and their dates danced until one o'clock in the morning.

As the spring semester hurried by, house parties became a favorite form of social activity. Soon, the "Sophomore Serenade" marked the close of another year.

Entering into the realm of upper division subjects, our Junior Class found itself in the midst of full class schedules and heavy studies, dotted with social events. Soon preparations were begun for the Autumn Informal at Del Webb's Ocean House. A successful Junior Fair was filled with memories of our Freshman Carnival.

Not a single heart remained untouched at the news of the assassination of our greatly respected president, John Fitzgerald Kennedy. The student body offered a Requiem Mass in our chapel on the day of his burial in the presence of a flag-draped catafalque. Reverence, respect, renewed patriotism and admiration pervaded our classes and studies as we continued our side of the battle.

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" when class rings arrived a few weeks before Christmas. Plans for a snow trip to Lake Arrowhead during semester break helped to make studying for final exams just a fraction more on the easy side.

Encouraged by accomplishments of past years and under the guidance of our counselor, Mother Furay, and the class officers, Karen Graham, president; Carolyn Shaffer, vice-president; Jean Childs, secretary; and Irma Mix, treasurer, our class returned to continue our second semester of the junior year.

Next year will bring student teaching for many and graduate exams for others. And for some it will bring the new world of engagement rings. Yet there will still be that unifying thread which bound us together through our first three years at USD and which will make us all one in eternity . . . we are always Children of His Sacred Heart.

September was the month for renewing old friendships, making new ones and settling into the classroom routine. The Sophomores made the adjustments from surf and sand to texts and assignments with quite a bit of lamenting, but without too much heartbreak. We bounced through the weeks without a care in the world — until mid-terms. But even then, we made room in our schedule to reveal to the Freshmen the great "Who are the Sophs?" mystery. The "Buddies" Dessert Party helped the Sophs every bit as much as it helped the Freshmen!

From then on, 'til Christmas, life for our Sophomore Class was one big round of football and basketball rallies and games; cheerleading; Kris Kindls; not to mention support for the fall play; fun of our class party; dancing at the Christmas Ball; work put into the Thanksgiving Clothing and Food Drive; and help for the Freshmen in their annual Christmas Toy Drive. Best of all was the anticipation of a "restful" Christmas holiday, with only ten times the homework and three term papers due on January 8th!

Coming back in a new year, the Sophomores faced the grim ordeal of finals. But the thought of the end of an old semester, and a few days of rest and a Retreat before the beginning of a new one, brightened the horizon just a little.

By the end of January we were looking forward to the new semester filled with dances, midterms, and upper division courses. The semester end looked very close with its promise of a Bal des Fleurs and the presentation of our Associate of Arts certificates. Our class officers exerted every bit of effort to make certain that we reached the Ball and presentation. Mary Jo McBrearty was quite a lively president, with just a touch of an erratic conformist in that Madras scarf on her hair. And certainly our drama department would have been lost without the performances of vice-president Marsha Zandi. Secretary Susan Lundquist received more than her share of writing exercises in class and for our class. Richie's certainly would not have been the same on Tuesday and Thursday without poetess and class treasurer Susie Skinner and her Rilkish ideas.

February may have had one extra day this year, but we certainly filled the entire month to the brim — Mardi Gras Dance; the Supper Dance for all lower classmen; our traditional variety show; and the penitential atmosphere of Lent. Easter vacation, the College for Women Evening of Music, the University Ball, all kept us just on the tips of our toes and walking at a very rapid pace.

By June the Sophomores began to make the adjustment from text and assignments to surf and sand with (albeit) a lot of less grumbling than was heard in September! We will return as Juniors, entitled to attend the upper division mixers and having the privilege of watching the Freshmen and Sophomores struggle through P.E. twice a week!

Traditionally, we Freshmen were a "little confused" when we first appeared on campus. After the first few weeks, however, our adjustments to the scholastic and social life began. Of course, all of these experiences were accompanied by the help of our big sisters, and our big brothers from the College for Men, who wrote cheerful notes to encourage us and keep up our spirits. Welcome Week and the first month of school brought the first events which initiated us into the family atmosphere of the University. One activity followed another; Convocation and Investiture; the Fashion Revue directed by social chairman Kathy Shea and Bill White; the Senior sponsored Palm Patio dance; the ADG dance; the USD pool party; and finally the Hootenanny.

The Freshman Follies provided a wonderful opportunity for each member of our class to become acquainted with one another. The unifying effect of this project continued the family atmosphere which we had come to recognize as one of the principle values of USD. The talents of the Freshmen were very well displayed under the direction of Pat Wilson and Judy Banks.

Midterms interrupted the college social activities for a week, but the Junior Dance presented by the Men's college in More Hall brought us back into a relaxed mood. Marcie Lazzari led the volley ball team to victory and to our first trophy. Kathy Keptner collected hundreds of toys with the aid of her class and the contributions of the student body at our college. Thanksgiving and Christmas relieved us from the pressures of classes for a while (but not from the pressures of term papers), and the mistletoe spirit of the Bishop's Christmas party sent us home with a great deal of holiday spirit enveloping us.

During these first few months, the fortnightly officers gave us some examples of the leadership qualities of our class. Mary Kay, Bunny and Helen began the task of organizing all of us into a "class". Their work was continued by Susan, Anna Christina and Mary Ann. Diane, Jo and Kathy did their share as we began to take on some semblance of a unified group. Carole, Adrienne, and Jean contributed the final touches and we prepared to elect permanent officers.

Logic, English, western civilization and anthropology took a second place as we celebrated the elections of our permanent officers: Mary Kay, Judy, Susan, and Kathy. Then our academic subjects re-entered the limelight as we experienced our first semester exams.

Mother Shaffer's guidance, consideration and understanding helped each of us to begin our second semester at USD. A few other events also aided in continuing the buoyancy of our spirits: our Freshman Supper Dance with its Valentine theme; the Phi Kappa Theta Dance; the Mardi Gras Dance just before Lent; the faculty lecture in honor of St. Thomas Aquinas; and the Passion Play presented by the College for Men.

Easter vacation seemed to be only a brief stopping for a breath of air before we continued our studies and our fun. Theatre Arts seemed to predominate as we supported the College for Women Drama Club in their spring play and the College for Men in their performance of MEDEA. Final exams were not as difficult because they seemed to spell out a favorite word — SUMMER VACATION.

UNUM

Distinguished, student-written poetry and prose is the sum and substance of the Unum, literary magazine of the San Diego College for Women. A board of judges, comprised of students, moderated by Mother Patch, determine the material for publication, which has been submitted by students and faculty members. Unum is published once annually in the spring.

IMPETUS

Newest of the SDCW publications is the Impetus, originally an outgrowth of the Unum, which has matured to independent standing during the course of the 1963-1964 school year. Its purpose: to provide the student body with a commentary on current thought and criticism of the various phases of the arts. Many students have made contributions to the infant publication during its early months.

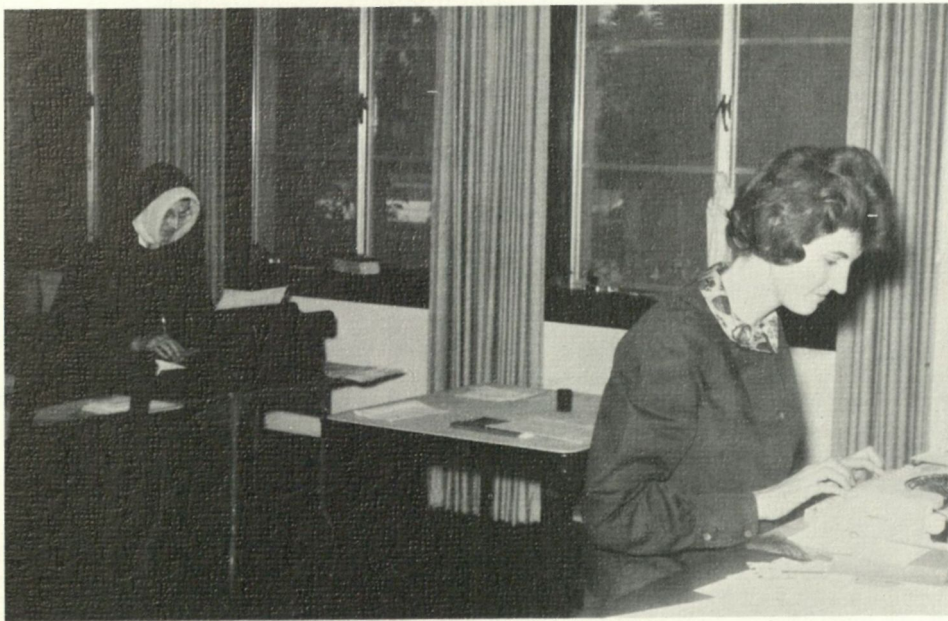

Editor-in-chief, Lynn Horobetz, originator of Impetus, is assisted by Mary B. Schoen, Marty Sucec, Marion Snyder, and Pam Alesch, under the direction of Mother Patch.

Mother Bremner and Suzanne Munsell hurry to meet the publisher's deadline.

The Alcala serves as the annual publication of the events of the school year at the San Diego College for Women. Staffed by the students of the college, the Alcala continues into its ninth year. Little need be said in explanation of the book for it tells its story in the pictures before you.

CHILDREN OF MARY

The Congregation of the Children of Mary of the Sacred Heart is the spiritual organ in the San Diego College for Women. The foundress, Saint Madeline Sophie, wrote that this organization is an "apostolate," for all its members "must be Apostles."

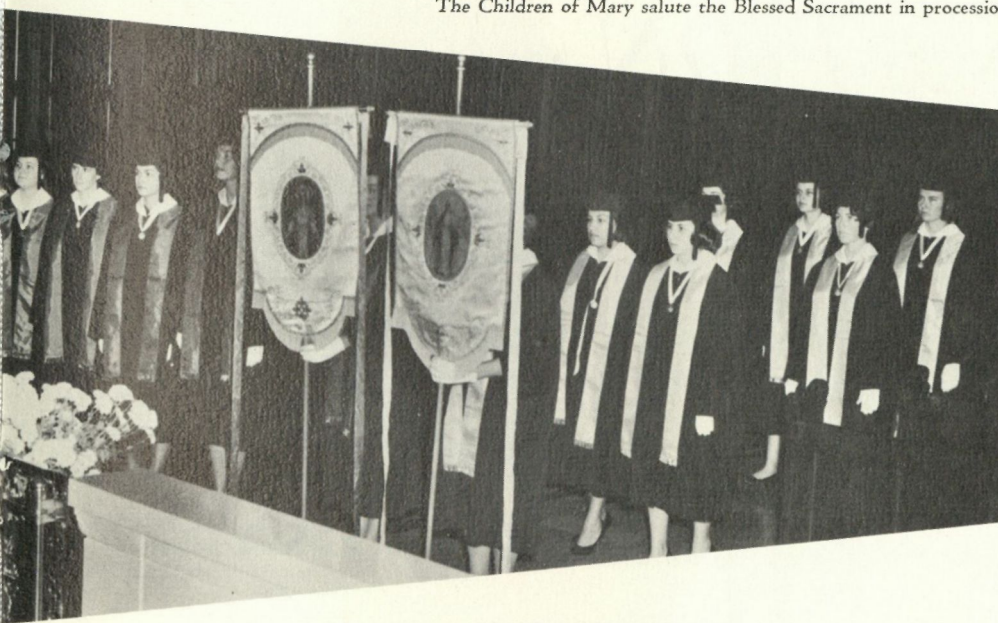

The aim of every member is a perfect Christian life. Every Child of Mary consecrates herself to carry out the will of God in whatever state of life He has placed her. She strives for perfection by inculcating within her own life a spirit of detachment, courageous purity and devotion to the will of God. By strengthening her own spiritual life, she is able by example, to spread the love of the Sacred Heart throughout the world.

"Medal" members of Children of Mary gather together in the Chapel. Those present are Maureen Pecht and Mary Fipp, President, Judy McMillan, La Delle Willett, Suzanne Schultz, Mary B. Schoen, Wendy Eisman, Sandy Schadewald, Joan Karpinski, Anne Boehler, Maria Rodriguez, Irene Carames, Patricia Murphy, Margaret Morgan, Glory Odgers, and Lorna Popp.

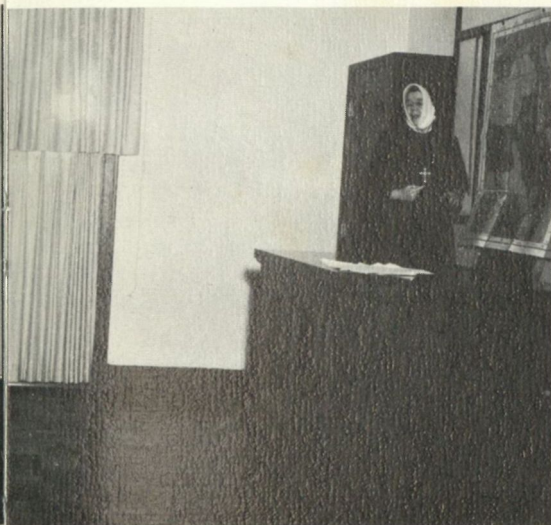

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

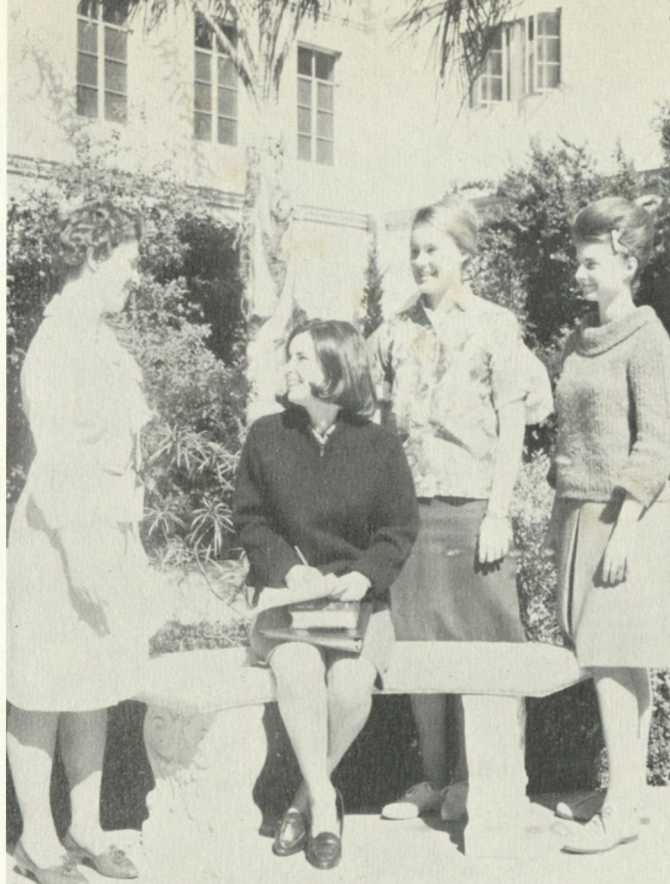

Officers of the I.R.C. are President, Sharron Moore, Secretary, Mary Bernadette Schoen, and Vice-President, Stephanie Mayfield.

Mother Murphy gave an excellent explanation of the situation in Israel when she spoke at an I.R.C. meeting.

Planning the CIVIL RIGHTS Meeting at Pomona.

Sharon Moore, briefed the audience on the background of a guest speaker.

The International Relations Club seeks to familiarize its members with current events and issues on a four-fold basis. Through various media the group aims to study the political problems which face modern man; to know the essential differences between the opposing world blocs; to understand the reasons for and projected outcome of this conflict; and to promote a vital enthusiasm for the world in which we live. Implanting intellectual awareness of these four areas in the student constitutes the function of the I.R.C. at the San Diego College for Women. Mother McShane is the enthusiastic faculty adviser.

EL CLUB ESPANOL

The prominent position that the Spanish language occupies at the College for Women is evidenced in the enthusiasm of the students who are heard conversing in Spanish with a more or less "American accent". Recently under the direction of our Spanish faculty a Spanish Club was organized with the aim of acquainting interested students with the language, literature, customs, history, and problems of the Spanish speaking world. Through their activities the members hope to make our "Alcala on the hill" come closer (at least in spirit) to the Alcala in Spain.

Preparing for the Christmas Posada which promises to be an annual function of the newly formed Spanish Club are the officers Irene Carmes (Sec.), Cynthia Charmasson (Counselor), Stephanie Mayfield (Vice Pres.) and Anita Good (Pres.).

Noontime provides the Spanish Club and faculty advisers — Senora Bartelme, Senor Blanco, and Senora Graves — with an opportunity to practice the language.

Girls interested in using the French they have learned meet at lunch time in the dining hall to converse over lunch.

Club officers, Jeanne Woody, treasurer, Margaret De Guide, president, and Isabelle Trombetta, secretary, point out some of the outstanding features of Paris.

LE CLUB FRANCAIS

The French Club's primary aim is to familiarize its members with French conversation by putting the French they know into everyday practice. Guest speakers, movies, group discussions and picnics are just a few of the activities which may make up the program for one of the weekly meetings. A newspaper, The Jirouette, is published monthly by the club.

Visiting high school students from the Convent of the Sacred Heart, El Cajon, share in the festivities which followed a club meeting.

ALCALA PARK PLAYERS

The main concern of the Alcala Park Players is the sponsoring of two full length plays annually. Death Takes A Holiday and The Miracle Worker, this year's productions, offered all who attended first rate entertainment and a chance to sit on cushions for future productions. The proceeds from these plays were donated to the school for new theater cushions.

Upper left: Miss Brophy, Adele Schroeder, Mary Clarke, and Mary Kay Cowan set the stage for the Alcala Park Players next production.

Lower left: Scanning program for any necessary changes are Miss Brophy, Pam Alesch, Secretary, Mr. Van Vleck, moderator, Christine Camus, President, Kathleen Zaworski, Vice President, and Mary B. Schoen, Treasurer.

Just before the curtain closes the audience gives the company of Death Takes A Holiday a final ovation.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The W.A.A. serves the purpose of promoting school spirit through outdoor exercise and recreation. Throughout the year the club sponsors various activities. In the warm months sailing is a favorite. On campus the volleyball, volleytennis and basketball seasons terminate with the W.A.A. staging an intramural tournament for each sport. Climaxing the competition is the awarding of the "Spirit Banner" at the end of the year. In this way the W.A.A. plays a vital role both in encouraging enthusiasm within the class and in fostering physical fitness.

"After the rains came" Mrs. Mercado and the officers of the W.A.A., Judy Blaine (Vice Pres.) and Wendy Eisman (Pres.) inspected the tennis court.

The basketball tournament was only one of the tournaments successfully sponsored by the W.A.A.

SCIENCE CLUB

During the year the Science Club members as well as our faculty were enlightened to current developments in the field of science by guest lecturers.

The Science Club is a student organization established to stimulate in the student an interest in science and also to bring to him a knowledge of current research and of the many opportunities open to him in the field of Science. This purpose is achieved chiefly through lectures. Student lecturers share the results of their summer training in research laboratories with members of the club. Faculty lecturers present various aspects of their particular field of interest. Guest lecturers, while providing information concerning current research work being done in their specific field of science, give the student a view of the many areas of science open to him.

Officers of the Science Club are Frances Brescia (Treas.), Marita Angleton (Pres.), Glory Odgers (Vice Pres.) and Eleanor Smith (Sec.).

TABERNACLE SOCIETY

The Tabernacle Society is devoted to designing and making liturgical vestments for the churches in the San Diego area. Mother McShane ably assists the girls in this worthy work. Students not only have an opportunity to do a good service for the church, but they consider it a privilege to learn the art of making vestments which will later be worn by the priest at the altar.

Mother McShane directs Gay Guzinski in last minute directions for the proper placing of ornamentation for the chasuble. Other members of the society include (l. to r.): Mary B. Schoen, Karen Duncan, Agnes West, and Brenda Bartek.

The Tabernacle Society members worked steadily to complete a "rush order" for a Christmas vestment.

Ma Mere is a great boost to all priests in providing the necessities for the continuance of their good work.

OPERATION ACTION

In the belief that the conflict between Communism and freedom is the gravest problem of our time and that the best method of meeting this challenge is to have the youth of the nation thoroughly and completely informed as to its evil dangers and falacies, the campus anti-Communism club, Operation Action, was formed. Meeting bi-weekly, under the guidance of Mother Murphy, the group strives to recognize the kind of enemy with which Americans now have to deal.

Operation Action officers: Mary B. Schoen, Sec.-Treasurer; Christina Canwell, President; Mother Murphy, Moderator; and Trish Kruse, Vice-President.

Капиталисты объединяются на борьбу с Комунизмом.

(Capitalists combine to combat Communism.)

Pam Alesch, Anne Parker, Maureen Buckley, and Carmen Lucero seem to be enjoying the efforts of Mary B. Schoen and Mary Ann Cusenza as the two girls rehearse for the next program.

RADIO WCSD

We are all familiar with the theme of Radio Station WCSD which fills the halls of the College for Women weekly. The station specializes in presenting a variety of tunes from Broadway musicals and hit albums. Besides providing entertainment for those on campus, WCSD serves as a practice ground for students interested in learning the ropes of programming. Members of Mr. Van Vleck's Speech 40 and 140 are responsible for the organization and presentation of WCSD shows.

Anne Parker, Mary B. Schoen and Maureen Buckley seem to have things well under control during one of the station's weekly programs. Mary Ann Cusenza and Carmen Lucero watch the proceedings.

Kathy Zaworski has made her point; Marion Snyder, Sherry Planansky, and Mary B. Schoen look to Mother Patch for assent.

CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE CLUB

Exploring the wealth of interest and talent in the recent contributions to the literary field is one aim of the Contemporary Literature group. After selecting and reading a novel, interested students meet, and, under the guidance of Mother Patch, discuss various stylistic qualities and techniques of the author. Through round table discussion the members become more keenly aware of present range of style and subject matter in contemporary literature.

MUSIC CLUBS

A chorale group practice together before they participate in a College for Women production. Mr. Fox leads the Alcala Chorale in its many appearances — both on campus and off.

Mr. Kolar and his String Ensemble add to the beauty of the Christmas Pageant.

WELFARE COMMITTEE

In a playful mood the leaders of the Welfare Committee display the "tools of their trade".

The Welfare Committee was organized to keep the campus in orderly condition at all times. Set up by the Associated Student Body, the Sophomore class staffs it and the President of the Student Body acts as Chairman. On a constant campaign for school attractiveness, the Welfare Committee helps keep ours one of the most beautiful of college campuses.

SOCIAL CHAIRMEN: Barbara Bonessa, Gloria Odgers, Kathy Keptner, Elizabeth Lee, Mary Wasley, Maribeth Mattinson, RoseMarie Ross, Brenda Bartek, and Kathleen Shea.
