Welcome to USD

The University of San Diego has for more than 50 years been dedicated to providing a values-based education that recognizes men and women as creatures of God, and to the continuing examination of Catholic tradition in contemporary life. USD's 180-acre campus, Alcalá Park, overlooks San Diego's Mission Bay and the spot where Father Junipero Serra celebrated the first Catholic Mass in Alta California more than 230 years ago. Like California's oldest city, the university took its name from San Diego de Alcalá, a Franciscan brother from Alcalá de Henares, a monastery near Madrid, Spain. The Spanish Renaissance architecture that characterizes Spain's five-century old University of Alcalá serves as the inspiration for all buildings on the USD campus.

Led by Mother Rosalie Hill and Bishop Charles Francis Buddy, the University of San Diego began as separate colleges for men and women. The first classes met in 1952; the School of Law opened its doors in 1954. By the late 1960s it became clear that both colleges would benefit from combining academic resources, and in 1972 the University of San Diego became a single coeducational Catholic university.

Now governed by an independent board of trustees, USD is a Roman Catholic institution that welcomes students, faculty and staff of diverse religious traditions and remains dedicated to the values originally articulated by Mother Hill and Bishop Buddy. Students choose from more than 60 undergraduate and graduate degree programs in academic divisions including the College of Arts and Sciences and the schools of Business Administration, Education, Law, and Nursing and Health Science. Men aspiring to the Roman Catholic priesthood prepare for their callings at the St. Francis House of Priestly Formation on the east end of campus.

About San Diego

San Diego, California's first city, has developed from a small seaport town into one of the world's great cities. The seventh-largest city in the nation is home to a wide range of educational, cultural, economic and recreational activity.

San Diego is the epicenter of burgeoning industries such as biotechnology, software development and telecommunications. The region also boasts several premier ecological research centers, including the San Diego Zoo, the San Diego Wild Animal Park and SeaWorld.

Balboa Park, one of the world's oldest and largest city parks, is only a short drive from USD. The park is the heart of the city's cultural life, home to 15 museums and more than 85 performing arts and international culture organizations.

Qualcomm Stadium, home of the San Diego Chargers and former home of the San Diego Padres, is the only facility to host a Super Bowl and a World Series in the same calendar year. Petco Park, the Padres' state-of-the-art facility located downtown, opened in 2004.

The Mission Bay Aquatic Center is the world's largest recreational waterfront facility, offering instruction in an array of watersports including sailing, surfing and kayaking. The center is designed primarily for the students, faculty, staff and alumni of San Diego's colleges and universities.

The San Diego Trolley is one of the nation's most successful light-rail public transportation systems. Expansion of the system is expected to be complete in 2005.

Academics

Admission to USD is highly selective. Among U.S. News & World Report's top 100 national universities, USD received more than 7,000 applications for approximately 1,000 undergraduate openings last fall. The Class of 2007 entered with the highest GPA — 3.78 — of any class in the university's history, and the average SAT score was almost 1200.

USD in 2003 joined the elite company of Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest honor society. Nationwide, only about 10 percent of all colleges and universities have Phi Beta Kappa chapters. USD is one of only 18 Catholic institutions among the 270 chapters. The university was granted membership to the Mortar Board national honor society in 2000.

Applicants are expected to present a well-balanced secondary school program of college preparatory courses in English, foreign language, mathematics, laboratory science, history and social science. Both the content of the academic program as well as the quality of performance is considered. SAT/ACT results are used to broaden USD's understanding of the applicant's potential; however the university also is interested in the person behind the academic history. Participation in extracurricular activities at the school, in the community or church is taken into consideration when making admission decisions.

DID YOU KNOW?

Campus Life

Living on Campus

Approximately 2,400 students, roughly half of all undergraduates and a small number of graduate students, live on campus, supervised by full-time resident staff and 50 student resident advisers. In addition, a number of faculty and members of religious orders also live in the residence halls.

There are four areas designated for freshmen. Camino-Founders Hall is exclusively for female students; Maher Hall and the Missions A and B complexes are coed. Manchester Village, a new concept in student housing, opened in 2002, accommodating some 330 students and faculty in an environment that promotes life skills along with academics. Five apartment complexes are within walking distance of the campus.

Public Safety

USD's public safety officers patrol the campus around the clock seven days a week. The department offers a series of crime-prevention programs and a dusk-to-dawn escort service for anyone walking to any location on campus or within a one-mile radius.

Student Resource Center

The Student Resource Center, located on the first floor of the Hahn University Center, offers referral services including:

Academic Assistance Support

The Student Resource Center professional staff and peer advisers conduct advising sessions to assist all students with the development of an academic assistance plan. All students are welcome to participate in this program to improve their academic performance.

For Housing information, call
(619) 260-4777
or log on to <http://housing.sandiego.edu>.

Mentor Connection

This peer-mentoring program helps new freshmen and transfer students connect with successful continuing USD students. Entering students must complete an application the summer before arriving at USD. Contact the Student Resource Center for additional information.

Passport to Success

Passport to Success offers about 30 fall semester workshops designed specifically to assist freshmen who are the first in their families to attend college with the transition to university life.

Student Organizations

More than 65 organizations, including fraternities and sororities, academic clubs and intramural athletic groups are open to students.

Cultural Activities

Art

May Indian Artifacts Gallery in Founders Hall hosts showings that celebrate American Indian culture and traditions. Serra Hall's Anthropology Museum features the extensive holdings of the May Indian Artifacts Collection.

Theater

USD's Master of Fine Arts in Dramatic Arts, in conjunction with The Old Globe Theatres in Balboa Park, offers a variety of performances at The Globe throughout the year, which are available to USD students at special prices. In addition, M.F.A. and undergraduate theatre arts students stage regular on-campus performances.

Speakers

USD's cultural and intellectual diversity is reinforced by the wide range of speakers who come to campus. Recent speakers include former President Jimmy Carter, U.S. poet laureate Robert Pinsky and Nobel Peace Prize winner Oscar Arias.

Music

A comprehensive music program includes regular performances by the USD Symphony, the USD Community Choir, the Opera Workshop and the Choral Scholars show choir. The program also presents frequent recitals by faculty and students, and performances by visiting artists.

Invisible University

DID YOU KNOW?

In 2002, USD hosted the inaugural Kyoto Laureates Symposium, which honors recipients of the Kyoto Prizes and presents their work in public forums. The awards, given annually to recognize profound contributions to human progress in technology, the sciences, and arts and philosophy, are among the world's most prestigious prizes for lifetime achievement.

University Ministry

University Ministry helps students, faculty, staff and alumni nourish an adult faith, form a strong community of worship, serve the needy and act for justice.

The catalyst of spiritual life on campus, University Ministry invites people of all religious traditions and those still searching for religious identity to participate in its activities, which include retreats, Scripture study, pastoral counseling, spiritual direction, liturgical ministries, ecumenical services, worship, the Founders Chapel choir and faith reflection groups and social justice and service opportunities.

USD is a Roman Catholic institution proud of the religious diversity on campus. The annual All-Faith Service celebrating the many faith traditions on campus is a USD tradition. The Jewish Student Union and the Intervarsity Christian Fellowship for Evangelical Christians are active campus organizations. Any student can receive information from University Ministry about on- and off-campus opportunities to practice any faith.

Programs for those interested in learning more about the Catholic faith or preparing for the Sacraments of Initiation (Baptism, Eucharist, Confirmation) are presented from mid-September through early April. University Ministry staff members are available to assist in preparation for marriage in Catholic churches.

For information, call
(619) 260-4735
or visit
www.sandiego.edu/Ministry,

Other WCC teams include Loyola Marymount, Pepperdine, Santa Clara, University of San Francisco, University of Portland, Gonzaga and St. Mary's.

The Torero nickname was chosen in 1961 by university founder Bishop Buddy to reflect USD's close affiliation with Mexico. The traditional team colors are Columbia blue, navy blue and white.

USD boasts some of the best athletic facilities in the nation, including the Jenny Craig Pavilion, home of the basketball and volleyball teams and a fitness center open to all students, and an expanded and upgraded Torero Stadium, home of USD football and soccer. Significant renovations to Cunningham Baseball Stadium, the USD West Tennis Courts, the Manchester Canyon Field and the USD Softball Complex make the university's athletic infrastructure second to none.
