IMMEDIATE RELEASE

USD LAW LIBRARY DIRECTOR HEADS PROFESSIONAL ASSOCIATION

SAN DIEGO, Calif--The San Diego Chapter of the Special Libraries Assn. will be headed by a priest this coming year. The Rev. Alfred Geimer, University of San Diego School of Law library director, is the first clergyman to head the library group. Father Geimer took office Monday, May 26.

The international association serves special libraries, which includes scientific, law, medical and industrial collections.

Father Geimer succeeds Marian P. Holleman, assistant librarian at the University of San Diego College for Women.

Other officers are Ruth Rector, librarian, San Diego Public Library Clairemont Branch, vice-president and president-elect; Anna R. Brasche, librarian, U.S. Naval Shore Electronics Engineering Activity, secretary; Robert F. Lewis, biomedical librarian, UCSD, treasurer.

The chapter's councilors are Edna B. Ziebold, director of school library service, San Diego County Department of Education, and Nelson W. Hope, librarian, AiResearch Manufacturing Company, Phoenix, Ariz.

Father Geimer has been USD law librarian since 1960. He earned his master of science in library science at Catholic University, Washington, D.C. He taught legal bibliography at the USD School of Law for a time after becoming library director.

Previously, Father Geimer was administrator at St. Patrick's Church, Carlsbad. Other assignments include assistantships and administrator posts in San Diego area parishes. He also taught high school in Wisconsin and Pennsylvania. He was ordained in 1942. #####
