PROGRAM FOR PARENTS PLANNED AT USD

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

San Diego, California

Parents of the students of the University of San Diego will become better acquainted with the campus during "Parent's Day" on Saturday, March 23 on the Alcala Park campus.

Parent Day is sponsored by the University Relations Campus Committee, composed of students, faculty, and administration. According to chairman John S. Chambers, Assistant Professor of Political Science at USD, "Through the informal set-up of the program we hope to provide an occasion for the parents to see how they can become a part of the USD campus, to increase or establish better parent-student rapport."

The program will begin at 10 a.m. with registration and coffee in Casa de Alcala, the home of Dr. Author E. Hughes, President. From 11-12 in Camino Hall, parents will hear presentations from various student clubs under the organization of the Associated Students.

A special noon Mass in the Immaculata will be followed by a buffet luncheon in De Sales Dining Room. At 1:30 p.m. President Hughes will address the parents about plans for future programs and development.

At 2 p.m. parents will meet in an informal question-answer format with the deans of the four colleges, Dr. Edward E. Foster, Dean, College of Arts and Sciences; Dr. William E. Elliott, Dean, School of Education; Dr. Donald T. Weckstein, Dean, School of Law; and Dr. Clement J. Nouri, Dean, School of Business Administration.

Guests will be hosted by members of the Parents Advisory Committee, a volunteer service group. Invitations to Parent's Day have been extended to over 2,000 parents throughout the United States.
