FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BRADSHAW WATERCOLOR EXHIBIT AT FOUNDERS GALLERY

FEBRUARY 9 - MARCH 17

"Keweenaw Suite," a series of watercolor paintings by renowned artist Glenn Bradshaw, will be featured at the University of San Diego Founders Gallery in Founders Hall from February 9 through March 17. The Gallery is open weekdays, 10 am - 4 pm. There is no admission.

The forty-nine paintings of "Keweenaw Suite," like many of Bradshaw's paintings, were inspired by a lake in Wisconsin. Bradshaw is recognized nationally for his unique watercolors executed with casein-tempera paint on Oriental paper. His creations have been included in major regional and national exhibits since 1947. Mr. Bradshaw, Professor of Fine and Applied Arts at the University of Illinois, is the recipient of over 60 awards and has participated in numerous exhibitions. One of his pieces, Embankment III, is in the collection owned by the San Diego Museum of Art.

According to Therese Whitcomb, Professor and Art Historian at the University of San Diego, "Bradshaw's improvisational creations incorporate carefully observed earth and water forms. Although specific images are denied, a strong natural order remains."
