FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

"BUDDHISM SEMINAR IN HAWAII"

OFFERED BY USD

"Buddhism" will be the topic of a seminar offered by the University of San Diego to be held in Honolulu, Hawaii from January 4 through January 25. Dr. Delwin B. Schneider, USD professor of Asian religions, will coordinate the seminar and serve as instructor. For information and reservations, call Dr. Schneider at (714) 291-6480, ext. 4407.

The seminar will focus on a systematic study of the teaching of Gautama, the Buddha, with special attention to Buddhism in Hawaii and the Christian response to it. Students from any accredited college or university are eligible to enroll for three semester-units of academic credit. Other interested persons may enroll as extension course students.

The "Buddhism Seminar in Hawaii" includes a program of scheduled classes, directed readings, and visits to cultural monuments, temples, study centers, and the East-West Center of the University of Hawaii.

Tuition is $150 per unit for degree students and $75 for extension students. Travel expenses, including air and ground transportation and hotel, are $750. Reservations must be confirmed by December 7, 1981.
