ORIENTATION WEEK TO BE HELD AT USD

A record number of incoming freshmen, transfer students, and their parents is expected to arrive at the University of San Diego for Orientation Week, August 30 through September 6. Thomas F. Burke, Vice President for Student Affairs, describes the week-long series as "the most comprehensive orientation program in the history of the University."

Among the events planned for the new students are programs to introduce them to campus life, including areas such as financial aid, college survival skills, club and professional society meetings, and tours of San Diego attractions.

"An equally important part of the week," says Thomas Cosgrove, Associate Dean of Student Affairs, "are the social events designed to help students get to know each other. Our new USD'ers will spend an evening at Sea World, hear a live concert at a Hawaiian luau, compete in the fifth annual USD sand castle contest at Torrey Pines beach, attend a Padres game, and on Labor Day join in our campus Olympics."

The first day of the program will also feature special orientation for freshman parents, who will hear Dean Burke and Dr. Author E. Hughes, USD president, in a welcome to the campus, and will be hosted at a reception in Founder patio.
