FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

USD'S SUMMER CURRICULUM ANNOUNCED

The University of San Diego's summer school curriculum, in sessions ranging from three to twelve weeks, will offer some 100 courses that can be taken for undergraduate and graduate credit or for personal enrichment.

Undergraduate tuition is $170 a unit and tuition for graduate students is $175 or $190 a unit, depending on the course level. Clergy of all faiths and auditing students are eligible for a half-price reduction. On campus accommodations are available and meal plans may be purchased. For more information call USD's School of Continuing Education at 619/293-4585.

Offerings include courses or programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Education, School of Business Administration, Philip Y. Hahn School of Nursing and the School of Law.

Liberal arts courses include Computer Science, Logic, Exploring Religious Meaning, Introductory Psychology, American Fiction, and 20th Century Jazz History.

The School of Education offers 26 courses, among them fieldwork placement courses, and on campus sessions in Psychological Foundations of Education, Counseling of the Handicapped, Curriculum Innovations, and Politics of Education. Most classes in the School of Education are offered in late afternoon or evening.

The School of Business Administration curriculum consists of two six-week sessions, June 1 through July 12 and July 13 through August 23. Courses offered include Accounting, Macroeconomics, Organizational Behavior, Personnel Administration, Management Theory, and Economic Fluctuation and Forecasting.

The School of Nursing offers Nursing and Health Policy Formulation, Advanced Physiology, and Health Assessment.

Other programs available during the summer include the Lawyer's Assistant Program, the Paralegal Studies Program, Historic Site Archaeology Technician, and the Twentieth Anniversary Guadalajara Program. Institutes of International and Comparative Law are held in foreign countries including Ireland, France, Mexico, Egypt, Russia-Poland and England.
