PERSONNEL DIRECTOR APPOINTED AT USD

Judith Turnbull Green, Ed.D., has been appointed director of personnel at the University of San Diego, it was announced recently by John D. Boyce, USD vice president for financial affairs. Green will be responsible for policy administration and implementation affecting the University's 650 employees.

A recipient of the doctorate in education from the USD School of Education, Green assumes the new post on January 10. She holds a graduate degree in counseling psychology from the University of Oregon, where she did her baccalaureate work in social science. She has been on the staff of the University of California, San Diego since 1977 in the capacities of personnel administration, student center director, and assistant dean of Muir College. Her background also includes corporate personnel work, community college administration, and counseling for the Oregon State Employment Service.

Green succeeds Paul Dion, who has returned to personnel work in business and industry.
