LAW REVIEW EDITOR THEODORE BOUTROUS, JR.
NAMED LAW SCHOOL VALEDICTORIAN

Theodore Boutrous, Jr. has been selected as valedictorian for the 1987 University of San Diego School of Law graduating class.

He was among some 260 students who received Juris Doctors during a May 23 commencement at USD.

Boutrous was also editor-in-chief of the San Diego Law Review, a law school publication which has about 1,000 subscribers worldwide.

Maintaining such academic excellence "is a most significant achievement because Ted's role as editor of the Law Review was very demanding," said Law Professor Darrell Bratton, who is the Law Review's faculty advisor. "Ted was responsible for the five books we published this year."

During his tenure as editor, Boutrous is most proud of his and his staff's efforts to establish a dialog for tort reform.

After graduation, Boutrous, from Bismarck, N.D., plans to practice law in Washington, D.C. with Gibson, Dunn and Crutcher.

Boutrous received a bachelor's of science degree from Arizona State University. His father, Theodore Sr., is a practicing attorney in Bismark.
