COMER NAMED USD CORPORATE RELATIONS DIRECTOR

Courtney Comer, development manager at the Seattle Art Museum, has joined the University of San Diego as its Corporate Relations Director.

Comer served for six years as vice president for membership relations and development for the Greater San Diego Chamber of Commerce. She left the Chamber in 1989 to join the Seattle Art Museum.

A former educator, Comer was assistant director of admissions at Mount Vernon College in Washington, D.C. She has taught English at the La Jolla Country Day School and humanities at The Gordon School in Providence, R.I.

Comer has studied at the Graduate School of Public Administration at the University of Washington in Seattle. She is a graduate of The Claremont Colleges where she majored in political science and minored in economics.

Comer served on the Board of Directors of the National Association of Membership Directors of Chambers of Commerce. She was a top volunteer with The Players at the Old Globe Theatre. She has participated in the Intercollegiate Honors Program in Washington, D.C. and was a congressional intern to Representative Paul McCloskey of California.
