STUDENT DIRECTORS TAKE CENTER STAGE AT USD

Three engaging one act plays are presented by student directors enrolled in the University of San Diego's undergraduate theater program. The plays run nightly at 8 P.M., October 31 through November 4, then continue November 7 through 10, at Shiley Theater, Camino Hall, University of San Diego. Admission is $8 for general, $5 students and seniors. Tickets are available at the door.

Jessica Beck directs "The Actor's Nightmare," by Christopher Durang. This hilarious spoof details the plight of a stranger who is suddenly pushed on stage to replace an ailing actor. Michael Dondanville directs "Pterodactyls," by Nicky Silver, a comedic chronicle of the Duncan family dysfunction. In "F.M.," by Romulus Linney, director Joe Ries presents the tale of a creative writing teacher first appalled, then awed by the brilliance of one of her students.
