FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DOUG AND BETSY MANCHESTER CHAIR USD BALL

On April 28, Doug and Betsy Manchester will act as hosts and honorary chairmen of the Inaugural Ball to be held in the Hotel Inter-Continental San Diego Grand Ballroom. Proceeds will benefit the student financial aid program of the Philip Y. Hahn School of Nursing.

Ten years ago Philip Y. and Muriel Marsh Hahn donated to the University of San Diego the post-R.N. School of Nursing named for Mr. Hahn. Mrs. Hahn and Doug Manchester became close friends as they served on the university's Board of Trustees.

"It is our way of honoring our dear friend who, though she is deceased, continues to inspire Doug and me as we serve the University of San Diego," stated Betsy Manchester.

Lester Lanin's Orchestra of New York City will play for the Ball. Stephen Wyle, catering manager, and Otto Svensson, food and beverage, are designing a special menu for Mrs. Manchester.

A seven o' clock reception in the bayview foyer will be hosted by President and Mrs. Author E. Hughes before the eight-thirty seated dinner. Tables of ten will be set. Dancing will continue until midnight.

Though invitations will be mailed April 1, several La Jollans have reserved tables of ten. They include: Marilyn Roe, Jack and Virginia Monday, Jim and Colleen Kerr, Frank and Linda Alessio, Dan and Mary Mulvihill, Claire Tavares and Signal Advanced Technology group.

According to nursing faculty member, Dr. Janet Harrison, "The registered nurse student frequently combines the student role with work. Since most nurses are women, many have the additional responsibilities of child rearing. If nurses had to depend on their salaries alone, most would find private higher education for themselves unaffordable."

Harrison is the coordinator of the masters track in nursing administration and teaches transcultural nursing and leadership courses at the undergraduate level.

Reservations may be made by calling 698-1156. Reservations will close April 23.
